Population Projections for Ohio Counties

CCAO is pleased to offer a one-hour webinar on September 11, 2013 at 9:30 a.m. explaining population projections and demographic trends for Ohio counties from 2010 to 2040. This highly informative webinar will provide county officials with...

- An in-depth view of population projections for Ohio counties based on historical census data,
- Current conditions and projections of population growth and decline by metropolitan area and regions of the state,
- Impact of the aging of the baby boom generation on counties as Ohio's population ages and elderly Ohioans represent an increasing percentage of the total population, and
- Impact of birth and death rates and migration into and out of Ohio.

CCAO is pleased to have Steve Kelley, Senior Economist and Research Manager, in the Office of Research for the Ohio Development Services Agency as our speaker. In that capacity Kelley is the state liaison with the U.S. Census Bureau who promotes the census and advises state and local governments on the American Community Survey and census updates. Mr. Kelley's presentation will include historical census data to assist in understanding and projecting demographic trends for Ohio.
