COUNTY LEVY RESULTS

Ohio voters generally gave a thumbs-up to higher taxes for schools and other local issues Tuesday, while less than half of proposed county sales tax increases were granted approval. Of the eight that were subject to votes, only three were endorsed. Those included: a 0.25% tax for a 911 system in Gallia County; the retention of a 0.5% tax for general revenue in Hancock County; and the failure of a repeal vote on a permissive 0.5% tax in Stark County. Voters declined to approve sales tax increases in Ashland, Columbiana, and Mahoning counties, voted against retaining one in Lorain County, and voted to repeal a tax increase in Allen County.

Developmental Disabilities Levies: Most developmental disabilities services levies passed, although Morrow County's levy was defeated for the 21st consecutive time, and Holmes County voters also rejected a levy. Voters endorsed developmental disabilities levies in Brown, Carroll, Crawford, Hocking, Hamilton, Pike, and Union counties.

Children Services: Supporters of children services levies saw success in 11 of 12 counties with issues on the ballot Tuesday. The only issue to fail was a Belmont County social services levy.

ADAMH: Nine of 12 addiction/mental health services levies passed. The winners were in Ashtabula, Clark, Erie-Ottawa (joint issue), Geauga, Green, Hamilton, Madison, Preble, and Putnam Counties. ADAMH levies were defeated in Sandusky, Union and Wayne-Holmes (joint issue) counties.

Seniors: All 16 senior services issues on Tuesday's ballot were successful. They included levies in Ashtabula, Athens, Gallia, Geauga, Greene, Guernsey, Hamilton, Lucas, Monroe, Morgan, Licking, Williams and Wyandot counties and two in Scioto County.

OSU Extension: Extension levies in Hardin and Monroe passed, while they failed in Paulding, Coshocton and Jackson counties.

County Homes: All five of the county home levies on the ballot were passed in Guernsey, Harrison, Holmes, Mercer, and Ottawa counties.

9-1-1: Five 9-1-1 levies passed in Coshocton, Defiance, Gallia (sales tax), Madison, and Putnam counties.

EMS: Four levies passed in Athens, Jackson, Morrow, and Vinton counties, while one was defeated in Morgan County.

In other notable election results statewide:

Cuyahoga County voters overwhelmingly supported a measure to revamp county government. Under Issue 6, the board of county commissioners will be replaced by an elected executive and 11-member council, and several elected offices - including auditor, recorder and sheriff - are eliminated.

Summit County voters defeated Issue 4, the controversial charter amendment, to make the county engineer a position appointed by the county executive and to combine the engineer's office with the Department of Environmental Services. The amendment was defeated by about 55 percent of the vote, according to unofficial county Board of Elections results. It was the third time the proposal has been voted down since 1996.

A complete list of levy results is attached to this issue of CIDS and posted on the front page of CCAO's website at www.ccao.org.

129th CCAO/CEAO ANNUAL WINTER CONFERENCE & TRADE SHOW

Register for the conference by November 13 to get the pre-registration discount. Everyone attending the conference must register, even if you are attending meetings only. Registration materials and an updated draft agenda are on the CCAO website at www.ccao.org. Click on the story on the front page.

SPOUSE/GUEST ACTIVITY & LUNCHEON – Monday, December 7

All CCAO/CEAO Spouse/Guest registrants are invited to participate in an event planned on Monday, December 6. Buses will depart from the Hyatt Regency at 9:30 a.m. and travel to the City of Worthington.

Worthington was one of the Midwest's first planned communities, blending commerce, residential life, education, and faith. Founded in 1803, Worthington reflects its dignified New England heritage with authentic brick sidewalks leading to the central Village Green where many of the city's original commercial buildings and churches still stand proudly. Today, as in ages past, people come to meet and greet on the Village Green and stroll the streets of downtown Worthington.

Upon arrival in Worthington, spouses/guest will visit The Candle Lab (www.thecandlelab.com) to make your own hand-poured soy candles. Design your label and select from 120+ pure fragrance oils or mix your oils. Candles will be poured by trained employees at The Candle Lab.

Lunch will be served at The Worthington Inn (www.worthingtoninn.com), which was built by Rensselaar W. Cowles, a former county commissioner, as a private residence in 1831. In 1852, the inn was changed into a traveler's inn on one of Columbus' most traveled thoroughfares. Over the last 157 years, the Inn has changed and grown while maintaining its historical integrity. At the conclusion of lunch, the candles will be delivered to the Inn for you to take home. Buses will return to the Hyatt after lunch.

CCAO SERVICE CORPORATION NEWS

ROLLOUT OF NEW CCAO SERVICE CORPORATION ENERGY PROGRAM – ELECTRICITY SAVINGS

As you recall, the CCAOSC initiated its natural gas procurement program in 2000 that has collectively saved 29 counties over $7.4 million. Recent modifications in the natural gas program increased the participation to over 40 counties! With the recent modifications of the natural gas program, the one question that was repeatedly asked by the various county commissioners: "Can you do this with electricity?" Based upon recent Public Utilities Commissioner of Ohio (PUCO) rulings and relatively low wholesale electric costs, we can now answer "YES"!

The County Commissioners Association of Ohio Service Corporation (CCAOSC) is forming a new program to assist counties on securing lower cost electricity. The CCAOSC has partnered again with Palmer Energy to help manage this electric program. While we will initially focus on counties located in the FirstEnergy area of the state, we fully expect to include counties served by Columbus & Southern and Duke-Ohio shortly thereafter.

To make this a successful program, we need to start collecting data from all counties. The independent energy professionals of Palmer Energy will collect, evaluate, and determine the most advantageous way to bid the members electricity requirement. Like natural gas, we anticipate that pooling the electricity needs of all participating counties will show greater savings to the entire group.

To get started, each county needs to complete and return a response form that will enable the CCAOSC to secure the necessary electric consumption, demand, cost, and other information, needed to attain quotations from the various potential suppliers. For more information go to www.ccao.org and click on the article on the front page. If you have questions or would like to schedule a consultation please contact either Kirkland Mizerek, Vice President of Palmer Energy at (419) 539-9180 or kmizerek@palmerenergy.com or Tom Strup, CCAO Deputy Director of Operations, at (614) 220-7078 or tstrup@ccao.org.

COUNTIES ACTIVITIES

HAMILTON COUNTY – LEADER IN ENERGY MANAGEMENT & EFFICIENCY

Buildings magazine has named Hamilton County's facilities department a "Leader in Energy Management and Sustainability." It was the only county recognized among Who's Who in 2009 listing that included Freddie Mac and Raytheon Corp. The magazine's September issue cited a dozen organizations for practices "that have resulted in significant reductions in energy usage and operating costs."

According to Ralph Linne, director of county facilities, "Hamilton County facilities reduced its greenhouse-gas emissions by 2,715 tons in 2008. This is a seven percent reduction compared to our base year of 1997 for buildings under control of the facilities department." For more information, contact Ralph Linne at (513) 946-5025 or rwl@cms.hamilton-co.org.

STATE ACTIVITIES

H1N1 UPDATE

Vaccination is the best way to protect you from the flu. Because pandemic H1N1 flu is circulating in Ohio along with the seasonal flu viruses, individuals will need both the Seasonal flu and H1N1 flu vaccinations to protect from the flu this year. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) recommends certain priority groups receive the H1N1 vaccine first. Once enough pandemic H1N1 vaccine becomes available, others will be able to receive it.

Each Thursday, the Ohio Department of Health (ODH) receives from CDC the amounts and types of H1N1 vaccine that have been allocated to Ohio. These allocations are based on the percentage of Ohio's national population (3.7124%). To date, the types and amounts of vaccine available to Ohio each week often have varied. The shots will be given to high-risk individuals including pregnant women; people who live with or care for children less than 6 months; all people 6 months to 24 years; and people 25 to 64 years with chronic medical conditions. The nasal-spray vaccine is approved for use only in healthy people ages 2 to 49.

To find out when H1N1 vaccine will be available in your community, please contact your local health department at <http://www.odh.ohio.gov/searchlhd/searchlhd.aspx> or call the ODH H1N1 Information line at (866) 800-1404.

In March 2009 — at a time when Ohio unemployment was 8.8 percent — the magazine rated the Dayton region at the top of a list of metro areas for welcoming commercial activity and development in a category of metro areas with populations between 200,000 and 1 million. Also in March, the state received from the magazine its third consecutive “Governor’s Cup award,” its fourth in six years of the magazine’s competition.

FEDERAL ACTIVITIES

COUNTY INPUT SOUGHT IN VOTING SYSTEM VENDOR MERGER

Sen. Charles Schumer (D-N.Y.) wants to hear from local and state elections officials about the merger of the top two elections systems companies that he fears could raise antitrust issues. In a letter to Attorney General

Eric Holder, Schumer asked the Justice Department to review the recent sale of Premier Election Systems, a former Diebold Inc. subsidiary, to Election Systems & Software (ES&S).

“If this acquisition proceeds, one company could control over three-quarters of the U.S. market for voting systems,” Schumer said in the letter, dated Sept. 14. He chairs the Senate Rules and Administration Committee, which has jurisdiction over elections-related issues. “A county may not be able to negotiate effectively against a company that controls the vast majority of voting systems in the country,” he warned.

Schumer said ES&S’ systems were used to count approximately 50 percent of all ballots cast in the last four major U.S. elections, and Premier had a 33 percent share of the voting-machine market. He wants elections officials to share their concerns about the merger’s “effect on the business of elections.” And they can do so anonymously, if they fear backlash from the voting systems industry.

The number three U.S. voting machine maker, Hart InterCivic, Inc., recently filed a lawsuit in U.S. District Court in New Jersey seeking a temporary restraining order against the merger. And Voter Action, a nonprofit voter advocacy group, has called on the Justice Department to “unwind this transaction.”

How to Comment

County elections officials who wish to send comments to the Senate Rules and Administration Committee may address them to: Chairman Charles E. Schumer, Senate Committee on Rules and Administration, Russell Senate Office Building Room 305, Washington, D.C. 20510.

To expedite delivery, Schumer’s committee encourages commenters to e-mail a PDF file of their letter as an attachment to adam_ambrogi@rules.senate.gov or to the committee’s chief counsel, Jason Abel at jason_abel@rules.senate.gov.

Schumer’s office will provide ways for information to be submitted anonymously in the event officials are concerned about making a public complaint for fear of retaliation.
