WHICH WORKERS' COMP MANAGED CARE ORGANIZATION IS RIGHT FOR YOU? - GETTING READY FOR OPEN ENROLLMENT MAY 3 – 31

The 2010 workers' comp open enrollment period is upon us! Once again, Ohio employers will have the opportunity to select the managed care organization (MCO) they want to handle their workers' comp claims for the next two years. Counties can expect a marketing blitz as companies compete for their business. If you are satisfied with your current MCO, you do not need to do anything to continue with that company.

Last week in CIDS, we stated that "Counties that participate in the CCAO Group Retrospective Rating Plan (Belmont, Champaign, Coshocton, Fairfield, Fayette, Gallia, Geauga, Hocking, Mercer, Monroe, Ottawa, Seneca, Union, Vinton and Williams) have already elected to retain CompManagement Health Systems (CHS) as their MCO and do not need to participate in this open enrollment period." This was not correct. Counties in Group Retro agreed to retain CompManagement Inc. as their TPA. There is no mandate for MCO. This was our mistake and no reflection on CHS or CMI. We apologize for the misstatement.

Here are some key questions to consider in evaluating your MCO:

- Does the organization provide and quantify significant medical savings?
- Do they have a strong return to work rate which ensures your employees are returning to the job in a safe, quick, and effective manner?
- Do they provide personal service including dedicated account executives and nurse case managers, quarterly meetings, on-site nurses, regional workshops, and workers' compensation program assessments?
- Do they have a full-time medical director on staff to provide services including availability at workshops, training, claim staffings, provider communication and partnership planning?
- Is the organization committed to online services by providing sophisticated clinical editing and bill review platforms, full imaging/scanning services, and 24 hour real time online access to your claim status, diagnosis, medical information, staff notes and medical documents?

CCAO endorses CompManagement Health Systems (CHS) as our preferred MCO partner. CHS is available at (888) 247-7799, press option 1; or contact Beth Miller, CORSA Claim & Litigation Manager, at (614) 220-7989, (888) 757-1904 or emiller@ccao.org if you have any questions.

ISSUE 1 – OHIO THIRD FRONTIER BACKED BY CCAO BOARD

The CCAO Board of Trustees voted to endorse Issue 1, a statewide measure on the May 4 primary ballot that will renew the highly successful Ohio Third Frontier initiative. The Ohio Third Frontier is an economic development and jobs program launched in 2002 that has created more than 48,000 new jobs, helped launch 571 new companies, supported expansion of existing companies and generated $6.6 billion in economic activity across Ohio.

A partnership involving state government, private industry, higher education and a variety of other research and nonprofit organizations, the Ohio Third Frontier program makes targeted investments in promising industries, technologies, small businesses and entrepreneurs that show promise for stimulating economic growth and creating jobs.

The Ohio Third Frontier initially was funded through multiple sources of State dollars. In 2002, Ohio voters approved the current bond funding mechanism for the program. That funding expires in 2012. Issue 1 will authorize $700 million in bonds to extend funding through 2016. Issue 1 will not raise taxes.

“CCAO strongly encourages county commissioners and other local officials publicly to support passage of Issue 1 which promises to create jobs and economic activity throughout the state. The Third Frontier Program has a proven record of bringing technologically innovative ideas to the marketplace since its inception in 2002. CCAO encourages support for State Issue 1 so that the Third Frontier Program may continue to create jobs through technological research and innovation,” said CCAO Executive Director Larry Long.

Issue 1 has attracted broad bipartisan support, including both candidates for Governor and the vast majority of both Democrats and Republicans in the Ohio General Assembly, as well as individuals and organizations in most major sectors of Ohio's economy. To learn more about Issue 1, visit www.UnitedForJobsOhio.com.

CCAO ENDORSES STATE ISSUE 2

The CCAO Board of Trustees voted to endorse the proposed constitutional amendment State Issue 2 which would change the location of the Columbus casino facility as authorized by a statewide vote at the November, 2009 General Election. State Issue 2 will be up for statewide voter approval at the Primary Election to be held on May 4. CCAO endorses local leaders having control of economic development and working with the developers to best suit their community needs.

Franklin County Commissioner and CCAO President Paula Brooks stated, "This is not about gambling. This is about making sure that local communities decide these matters. Our top priority now, needs to be working together to get shovels in the ground and help our middle class families get back to work."

"Supporting Issue 2 is easy for me. If the citizens of our county were faced with trying to constructively manage the location of a casino in our community, I would hope that the rest of the state would be there to stand with us. We need to support the citizens of Columbus in their effort to manage their own community - it is an issue of fairness and local control," commented Tim W. Brown, Wood County Commissioner.

State Issue 2 is a very simple amendment to Section 6 of Article XV of the Ohio Constitution that would authorize only a change in the location of a previously-authorized casino in Columbus. Passage of State Issue 2 will have no impact on the casino projects authorized in Cincinnati, Cleveland and Toledo.

The proposed amendment would change the location of the Columbus area casino authorized by statewide vote at the November, 2009 General Election from the area known as "The Arena District" to the site of a former General Motors/Delphi Corporation manufacturing plant located on the West Side. The proposed casino site would be re-located to West Broad Street near Georgesville and Phillipi Roads at a location that has been vacant since 2007. The planned $400 million investment by casino developer Penn National Gaming would be located closer to better highway access near I-70 and I-270. Relocating the casino would breathe new life into an area of vacant buildings, overgrown grasses and littered properties.

The location for the Columbus casino met community opposition. Following discussions with neighborhood, civic, business and government leaders, Penn National Gaming agreed to move the casino to a site that met approval of the surrounding community and where it would spur economic revitalization.

FEDERAL ACTIVITIES

CENSUS TAKERS START KNOCKING MAY 1

Starting May 1, residents who have not returned their form by April 16 will be visited by a Census Bureau employee, called an enumerator or census taker, to collect the information in person. This process will take place until the end of July 2010.

In an effort to support non response follow up (census taker visits), the State has prepared a Google Earth file of the lowest participation rates from the Take 10 Map. Maps of Ohio's participation rates can be found at <http://census.ohio.gov/Maps.aspx>. Please consider using this tool to reach out to local organizations and ask them to encourage residents to answer the door to a Census Taker.

Do your county residents have questions about completing your 2010 Census form? By now, thousands of Ohioans have received the Census in the mail, but many are uncertain how to answer some of the questions. Encourage residents to take just 10 minutes to answer 10 questions that will affect funding in Ohio for the next 10 years. For every Census form that is returned by mail, you save the Census Bureau from sending a person to follow-up. Door-to-door follow-up costs $57 per household.

Call the Census help line at 1-866-872-6868 to obtain a missing form. Important instructions for submitting 2010 Census information over the phone:

1. Call the Telephone Questionnaire Assistance center phone number and listen to a recorded message.
2. The resident will then be prompted to dictate a response: reply "operator".
3. This will take the resident directly to a call center operator.
4. The resident will need to then tell the operator: "I want to submit 2010 Census information over the phone with an agent."
5. They will be transferred to an agent who will go through the form and enter the information into the system.
6. Since this information is uploaded instantly, the Take 10 map will reflect that household as complete!

If residents use the phone number and still receive a visit, they will need to tell the census taker their information again. The census taker will not know that they already filled it out and residents are asked to be patient and resubmit their 2010 Census answers. For more information about your county's response rate go to <http://2010.census.gov/2010census/take10map/>. For more information about the Census, visit: www.census.ohio.gov.

WEBINARS

OZONE WEBINAR SERIES – APRIL 28

In January 2010, the U.S. EPA issued a proposed rule that would lower the primary National Ambient Air Quality Standard (NAAQS) for ozone from the current standard of 75 parts per million (PPM) to between 60 and 70 PPM. This standard was just reduced in 2008. If the new 2010 standards are enacted, EPA estimates the cost of national compliance at $19-$90 billion.

The Buckeye Energy Forum in conjunction with America’s Energy Forum is hosting a series of webinars to bring local leaders up to speed on this use and to discuss the impact to your communities. The first webinar was held on April 14. The next webinar to discuss EPA’s proposed implementation plans for these new regulations, potential penalties for non-compliance and the local economic impacts will be held on April 28, 2010 from 1:00 - 1:30 p.m. Please click here to pre-register www1.gotomeeting.com/register/905830304

MOVING AHEAD: SUSTAINABLE TRANSPORTATION FOR THE 21ST CENTURY

Fifty years ago, a gallon of gas cost .32 cents. Windshield cleaning was free. Life has changed drastically in the last half-century and with all the challenges facing transportation today, the real revolution in sustainable mobility lies ahead. It’s a chance to tackle tough questions, such as:

- Who will emerge as the sustainable transportation powerhouse – India, Europe or the U.S.? · Can alternative energy cars save the U.S. automotive industry?
- What really is “clean” energy when it comes to our transportation systems and how should it best be used?

Registration fee: $295 – industry or $195 – non-profit/government. Whether wanting to learn the latest in logistics, plug-in vehicles or smart sustainable communities, you need to know where America will go next. For more information go to MovingAhead2010.com.

Why 2010 Census

Census Takers Start Knocking May 1

MAKING SURE 100% OF OHIOANS ARE COUNTED

Starting May 1, residents who have not returned their form by April 16 will be visited by a Census Bureau employee, called an enumerator or census taker, to collect the information in person. This process will take place until the end of July 2010.

- The Census Bureau has been hiring and training enumerators who will work within their own community.
 - Contact your Local Census Office to ask if they still need donated training space or have job openings. Click here for a list of Ohio LCOs.
- Contact local law enforcement agencies to include and prepare them for this effort.
 - Residents will be approached up to 6 times during various times of the day. Census takers will never ask to enter a resident's home.
 - All census takers carry official government badges with their name. Residents may ask for a picture ID from another source to confirm their identity. Some census takers might carry a 'U. S. Census Workers' bag.
 - Residents may call the Detroit Regional Census Center to confirm that the census taker is employed by the Census Bureau: (313) 396-5200.
- Communicate to residents that they are required to answer questions asked by the census taker for their entire household.
 - Inform residents in your community who do not speak English or prefer to answer in their native language that census takers will have a flashcard with a sentence in 50 languages – they will then receive a visit from a census taker who speaks that language.
 - Highlight the importance of filling out the form during daily meetings, services, or events – every resident must be counted to ensure services they may rely on continue to exist or are improved over the next ten years. Census takers will only ask what is on the form – 10 questions.
 - Make sure families you know are including their children when they answer 2010 Census questions – children have historically be undercounted because they spend time at multiple locations during the week.
 - Reassure them that their information is private and confidential – the census taker who collects their information is sworn for life to protect their answers and faces a fine up to $250,000 or imprisonment for up to 5 years, or both if they share that information.
