FUTURE CHANGES IN OPERS; 2ND WEDNESDAY'S SEMINAR – JULY 14

CCAO will be hosting “Future Changes in OPERS” – the fourth in a series of “Second Wednesday’s” seminars – on Wednesday, July 14 at the CCAO Offices, 209 East State Street, in Columbus.

This seminar will focus on the recommended benefit changes that the Ohio Public Employees Retirement System (OPERS) Board of Trustees submitted to the Ohio Retirement Study Council in November 2009. These changes to benefits are designed to strengthen the pension system, with the added goal of maintaining adequate funding for health care. Depending on legislative implementation, the recommended changes to benefits will build on past actions by the Board to prepare for longer life expectancies of retirees, to encourage member engagement in their retirement planning and to correct inequities resulting from benefit subsidization.

The seminar will begin sharply at 9:30 a.m. and will conclude promptly at 12:30 p.m. Registrations will be accepted only by email. Seminar information is posted on our website at www.ccao.org. Coffee will be served during the morning and lunch will be on your own. Best of all, no registration fee will be charged! To register, contact Janet Erwin, CCAO Administrative Assistant, at jerwin@ccao.org.

COUNTY BULLETIN PROVIDES DATA ON VOTED PROPERTY TAX LEVIES BY PROGRAM CATEGORY, COUNTY & RATE

Attached to this edition of CIDS is County Data Exchange bulletin 2010-03 on “County Voted Property Tax Levies” for collection in 2009 by program category, county and rate. Basic data for these tables was provided by the Department of Taxation, Division of Tax Equalization (TR1 Report) from information submitted by county auditors. This data reflects voted millage rates for collection in calendar year 2009 and will not reflect any county levies adopted by voters within counties during 2009 and 2010. This data also reflects voted millage rates at the time of adoption and thus will not reflect adjustments in effective millage over time. If your county had countywide county property tax levies that were in place for collection in calendar year 2009 that are not reflected in this table, please contact Brad Cole, CCAO Managing Director of Research, at (614) 220-7981 or bcole@ccao.org.

COUNTY JOBLESS RATES IN MAY RANGE FROM DELAWARE'S LOW TO CLINTON'S HIGH

This week, the government announced that unemployment rates across Ohio in May ranged from a low of 7.2% in Delaware County to a high of 16.7% in Clinton County. Estimates from the Ohio Department of Job and Family Services showed nine counties with jobless rates in excess of 13% (i.e., Adams, 13.6%; Clinton, 16.7%; Highland, 15.9%; Jefferson, 13.4%; Meigs, 14.5%; Monroe, 13.3%; Morgan, 13.8%; Noble, 14.2%; and Pike, 14.2%), although rates declined in 86 of the 88 counties last month. Five counties had unemployment rates at or below 8% in May. Counties with the lowest rates, other than Delaware, were Geauga and Holmes, 7.4%; Mercer, 7.7%; and Lawrence, 8%. A map illustrating the unemployment rates by county is attached to this issue of CIDS.

Among the state's largest cities, the unemployment rate for May was highest in Cleveland at 11.3%, an increase from April, but slightly below the rate for May of 2009. Columbus was lowest at 8.7%, a decrease from April's level, but higher than May 2009. May jobless rates for other selected cities: Cincinnati, 9.9%; Toledo, 12.1%; Youngstown, 13.3%; Dayton, 12.3%; Akron, 11%; and Canton, 12.8 percent.

FEDERAL ACTIVITIES

BROWN INTRODUCES LOCAL JOBS FOR AMERICA ACT

Ohio Senator Sherrod Brown introduced S. 3500 - The Local Jobs for America Act that would authorize $75 billion in temporary funds over the next two years to local communities. The bill is aimed at preventing planned cuts and hiring back critical public safety and service workers who have been laid-off because of tight budgets. Under the proposed legislation, grants would go directly to eligible local communities and nonprofit community organizations to decide how best to use the funds. It is estimated that the bill would create or save up to a million jobs quickly in both the public and private sectors and help restore access to vital services on which families rely. The legislation would also provide $24 billion to states to put 5,500 law enforcement officers on the beat and retain, rehire, and hire firefighters. The bill would also fund approximately 50,000 additional private-sector on-the-job training positions to enable workers to acquire core job skills and to help local businesses put people back to work. NACo, along with U. S. Conference of Mayors and National League of Cities has been working within a local jobs coalition to actively support passage of this legislation. For more information, contact Deseree Gardner, NACo Associate Legislative Director, at (202) 942-4204 or dgardner@naco.org.

CONGRESS LOOKS TO VOTE ON PUBLIC SAFETY BILL

In the week just prior to Memorial Day, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid (D-NV) offered the text of S. 3194, the Public Safety Employer-Employee Cooperation Act, as an amendment (#4174) to H.R. 4899, the Supplemental Appropriations Act. Senator Enzi filed seven second degree amendments to Reid's Amendment. The Senate ended debate on the H.R. 4899, however, before Reid's amendment or any of Enzi's second degree amendments could be considered. Reid indicated he hopes to bring the Public Safety Employer-Employee Cooperation Act to a vote by offering it as amendment to one of the other bills the Senate considers before July 4. He did not commit to bringing the bill to the floor on its own (rather than as amendment), however.

The Public Safety Employer-Employee Cooperation Act would require the Federal Labor Relations Authority (FLRA), the federal agency that oversees labor relations between federal agencies and their employees, to establish minimum collective bargaining rights for state and local firefighters, police and emts. The FLRA would act as the labor board overseeing and enforcing collective bargaining rights for state and local police, firefighter and emts in any states that failed to meet the FLRA's minimum standards.

Last congress, the bill passed the House by a vote of 314 to 97. The Senate voted in favor of cloture 69 to 29, but the bill stalled before it could come to a final vote on the Senate floor as a result of disputes over the number of amendments. The President has already expressed his support for the legislation, so it will likely become law at some point this year.

DOL FMLA INTERPRATION OF "IN LOCO PARENTIS"

This week, the U.S. Department of Labor, Wage & Hour Division issued Administrator's Interpretation No. 2010-3 clarified the interpretation of the definition of "son or daughter" under Section 101(12) of the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) as it applies to an employee standing "in loco parentis" to a child.

The Administrator has determined that additional clarification is needed on the definition of "son or daughter" as it applies to an employee taking FMLA-protected leave for the birth or placement of a child, to care for a newborn or newly placed child, or to care for a child with a serious health condition. Based on the Wage and Hour Division's experience in administering the FMLA, it is evident that many employees and employers are unsure of how the FMLA applies when there is no legal or biological parent-child relationship. The Administrator is issuing this interpretation to provide needed guidance on this important area of law. For more information go to <http://www.dol.gov/opa/media/press/WHD/WHD20100877.htm>.

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING ACT INTRODUCED

On June 7, Senator Jeanne Shaheen (D-N.H.) introduced S. 3459 - the On-the-Job Training Act which would add a new section to the Workforce Investment Act authorizing the Employment and Training Administration to provide grants to local workforce agencies to fund on-the-job training for adult jobseekers and dislocated workers. For more information, contact Deseree Gardner, NACo Associate Legislative Director, at (202) 942-4204 or dgardner@naco.org.

EXTENDERS BILL FAILS TWICE IN THE SENATE

Last week, the Senate failed twice to obtain the necessary 60 votes to end debate on the tax extenders bill (H.R. 4213). After the first vote failed 45-52, Finance Committee Chairman Max Baucus (D-Mont.) offered a smaller package to attract more votes. The Baucus amendment had all of the provisions of interest to counties, including the six-month extension in the enhanced Medicaid federal match (FMAP), which is not in the House bill. Despite the reduced price tag, the second vote failed 56-40. Most of the Democrats who voted against the first version of H.R. 4213 switched their votes to yes. No Republicans voted for the measure. The future of the extenders bill is uncertain at this time. Senate leaders are still trying to negotiate further changes. The FMAP provision is considered particularly vulnerable because it is the major provision in the package that is not paid for. CCAO sent a letter to Senator Voinovich asking for his support to keep the FMAP provision and vote for the bill. For more information, contact Paul Beddoe, NACo Associate Legislative Director, at (202) 942-4234 or pbeddoe@naco.org.

2009 CENSUS DETAILS SHOW OHIO CITY POPULATIONS REMAIN RELATIVELY UNCHANGED FROM YEAR PRIOR

Most Ohio cities saw little change in their populations between 2008 and 2009, according to U.S. Census data released Tuesday. The U.S. Census Bureau provided population details of municipalities based on estimates for July 1, 2009. Cleveland saw a drop between 2008 and 2009. The city lost 2,658 residents, but that accounts for less than 1% of the city's population, according to 2009 Census data. Conversely, Columbus' population grew by about 1% with the addition of 9,970 residents to the city. Ohio's other major cities saw only minor changes, according to Census data. The city estimates are based on 2000 Census data updated to show legal boundary changes, housing unit estimates and county population estimates, which are determined by consulting birth, death and migration information.

In December, the bureau will deliver the 2010 state population counts to the president. That data will be used to apportion seats in the U.S. House of Representatives. By April 1, 2011 the agency must release counts by race and Hispanic origin for municipalities and other small geographic areas so states can move forward with redistricting. The 2011 sub-county population estimates, to be released in 2012, will be the first in the estimates series based on the 2010 Census population counts.

GRANTS

COMMUNITY-BASED AGRICULTURAL ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT MINI-GRANTS

Ohio communities seeking to promote the viability of local farms and agricultural economic development are encouraged to apply for grant funding from The Ohio State University's Center for Farmland Policy Innovation. The Center expects to disburse the following mini-grants:

- Project Grant - $50,000 for two or three innovative projects that promote community-based agricultural economic development priorities in local communities.

- Planning Grant - $10,000 for two or three smaller planning grants to focus on community-based agricultural economic development specifically through the community planning process, including creating or revising a community plan to address local agricultural needs and facilitate solutions.

Community-based agricultural development involves community planning, organizing and acting to enhance the health of a community through viable local agriculture. It is a collaborative local effort to retain and grow the benefits of food and agriculture, and to advance sustainable farming. Done successfully, its implementation should yield economic, social and environmental benefits for communities, the Center for Farmland Policy Innovation Director Jill Clark said.

Primary applicants for funding, available through the center's Farmland Protection Partnership Program, must be a governmental or administrative entity in an Ohio county, township, municipality, or non-profit organization. Proposals for projects must include a minimum local match of 50 percent, with at least 25 percent in the form of a direct cash match. Proposals for the smaller community planning grants must include a minimum 25 percent local match, either in cash or in-kind.

"Overall, we have three goals for this program," Clark said. "We want to see successful local projects in Ohio, we want to see innovative programs implemented so localities have examples in Ohio they can follow, and we want to build the capacity of communities to protect farmland and create an environment where local farms can thrive. In the end, we want to help make sure Ohio's No. 1 industry -- farming -- remains viable and locally relevant."

Proposals for project and planning grants are due by 5:00 p.m. on September 24, 2010. Applicants should contact the Center for assistance in developing proposals and project budgets. For additional information or for a copy of the Request for Proposals, contact Jill Clark, Director, Center for Farmland Policy Innovation, The Ohio State University, 337 Agricultural Administration Bldg., 2120 Fyffe Road, Columbus, OH 43201, (614) 247-6479, fax (614) 292-0078 or clark.1099@osu.edu or see the center's website at <http://cffpi.osu.edu>.

RE: Health Care Reform Presentation
DATE: June 18, 2010

The County Commissioners Association of Ohio and CEBCO are presenting an information program on the Health Care and Education Affordability Reconciliation Act of 2010 on July 27, 2010 at 10:00am. This meeting is open to all counties and is intended to include Commissioners and any applicable staff. The presentation will be given by Toni Donahue from Aon Consulting and will last approximately two hours.

We will require reservations to determine accommodations for the presentation. If a large contingency of county participants respond, we may have to change the venue to accommodate the number of attendees.

Please RSVP to Debi Burnette by Friday, July 9, 2010. You can fax your response to 614-229-4588 or e-mail Debi at dburnette@ccao.org. We hope that everyone will consider attending to learn about the new aspects of the Bill and what will be required of counties in the immediate future. Thank you!
